

Who I am
today began with public education.

"I once led on the court—now it's in the boardroom. I tell America's business leaders that it isn't enough to deliver any more. Always over deliver.
Exceeding expectations start with having a world-class education behind you. Who I am today began with public education—and today's public schools are better than ever."

Earvin "Magic" Johnson, Jr.
